D. Kennedy : "Don't ask what your country did for you, but ask what you did for your country." - 20 points 18

D. Kennedy wanted to say that every person is important for country and if you want to change your country you will must change yourself.

I agree with author. For example, if people want to live in the clean country they don't must still doing pollution and leave their country. In our country there are many kinds of pollution: earth water, air, and it's all cause of people, we want a good country but we don't want to change yourself.

So, ask yourself: "What can I do for my country?"
I give you an answer. Everyone must ~~hardworking~~^{work hard} for development of their country. It's not easy to be at first places in the world, but every ^{developed} country was built by people who worked every day for their country.

In conclusion I want to say that every person must ~~to do~~ hard work ^{hard} for your country and then your country will work for you.
